

HISTORICAL SUBMISSIONS FOR SETTLEMENT LANDS

Historical submissions for settlement land might also be known as land set aside, band council resolutions or site specific selections.

What are historical submissions for settlement land?

Historical submissions are existing land submissions by KDFN Beneficiaries and Citizens for residential or traditional use of settlement land. KDFN has over 350 historical submissions recorded.

Will all historical submissions be processed under the Lands Act?

Yes. Historical submissions for settlement land will be processed and granted to the greatest extent possible. Processing historical submissions is a top priority for the Heritage, Lands and Resource department.

How are historical submissions prioritized?

Historical submissions for settlement land will be processed in chronological order based on when the submission was first made. If there is more than one interest in the same area, interests could be processed at the same time.

Will KDFN prioritize types of historical submissions?

Yes. KDFN will process historical submissions for residential parcels of settlement land, before processing traditional use parcels.

Will KDFN give special consideration to historical submissions from Elders?

Yes. KDFN may prioritize or give special consideration to historical submissions from Elders or those with urgent needs.

How will historical submissions be processed?

KDFN is reviewing all recorded historical submissions and grouping them into two categories.

Category 1 (simple) a parcel with less than five historical submissions or existing occupants. They will be prioritized, based on recorded dates, and processed.

Category 2 (complex) a parcel with more than five historical submissions or existing occupants. KDFN will consider developing planned lots, or neighbourhood, for these submissions.

If there are two historical submissions on the same parcel of land, which application will be processed first?

Priority is given to the historical submission of interest made and processed in chronological order.
