

Spiritual & Mental Wellness
Kwanlin Dün First Nation

Registration Form: 2023 Land-Based Family Camp at Jackson Lake

Enjoy time with your family out on the land in a relaxed environment at Jackson Lake where cultural staff and traditional activities are available and optional. Nothing is mandatory.

Jackson Lake is a substance-free camp.

Available to families from all Yukon First Nations.

Childcare is not provided and we ask that you be responsible for your children 100% of the time.

Registration for:

- ☐ February 17-19, 2023 (Deadline: Feb 3rd)
☐ November 3-5, 2023 (Deadline: Oct 2nd)
☐ December 8-10, 2023 (Deadline: Nov 6th)

Name of Applicant: _____ Date: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

First Nation: _____

Family Members

Name	Age	First Nation	Allergies / Dietary Restrictions

Emergency Contacts

Name: _____ Relationship to Applicant: _____

Contact Number: _____

Name: _____ Relationship to Applicant: _____

Contact Number: _____

Spiritual & Mental Wellness
Kwanlin Dün First Nation

Does your family require transportation to camp from Natsékhi Kù KDFN Health Centre?

- ☐ Yes (For how many? _____)
- ☐ No
- ☐ Car seat Required (If so, how many: _____)

What We Provide

- Healthy meals and snacks throughout your time at camp
- Staff and Elder for crafts and other outdoor activities
- Safety orientation and on-site First Aid Attendant
- Transportation, as required
- Bedding and heated cabins (two twin beds)
- Full wash house facility with laundry
- Overnight security

What You Provide

- Please bring good warm outdoor clothes for winter for all your family members
- Games and activities for children
- Personal toiletries/Personal medications
- Responsible for your children 100% of the time

Transportation

- Details about transportation will be coordinated with each family

Please keep your pets at home.

Please read and sign that you and your family agree to all of the above information.

Name (print) _____ Signature _____ Date _____

Please send complete applications to Catheryne Lord → catheryne.lord@kdfn.net
For more information, call Catheryne at (867) 332-6847.